Covid-19 special edition number 3 - June 2020

German Group 1 meets via Zoom every Tuesday evening.

LALG is here for you!

Welcome to everyone who has registered for temporary free online membership of LALG.

We hope you are enjoying all that we have to offer from the comfort of your own home.

Discounts available

The coronavirus pandemic has been difficult for local shops and businesses but many are now welcoming customers again.

Turn to pages 10 to 12 for details of discounters now open.

To join any of our groups you should be a member of LALG

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR OF LALG

Welcome to the third edition of the online-only version of our newsletter.

I am pleased that so many members are getting involved with all the online activities we are arranging.

In May we had an excellent Evening Talk via Zoom by Bruce Balden, attended by around 60 members of LALG. We are running another Talk on 10 June and others are in the pipeline.

Our monthly lockdown quizzes are proving to be very popular. I am very grateful to Derek for running the one on 30 May; and to Ann and Andrew for the one on 27 June.

I know we all miss our usual events and group meetings but thirty groups are now using video-conferencing. Email zoom1@lalg.org.uk if you want any help with getting set up on Zoom.

Still on the theme of being online, we are now trying to encourage members to register on the LALG website. So please could you go to lalg.org.uk and click on Register. You will find a short video there to help you.

Registering now will be useful when you come to renewing your membership as you will be able to do it online. So much easier than forms and cheques!

Talking of renewing your membership, the committee has agreed that everyone renewing on time during 2020 will get an extra three months' membership. This is to recognise the reduced activities during the pandemic, and to pass on the savings made by not printing the newsletter.

Take care and keep safe.

SCIENCE BOOK GROUP

Wednesday 15 July,
7.30pm

We will decide nearer the time whether to meet in person or via Zoom

Infinite Powers: How Calculus Reveals the Secrets of the Universe by Steven Strogatz

This popular science book was short-listed for the Royal Science Book Prize.

It describes the history of calculus and explains how it works our lives: without it we would not have mobile phones or GPS, or have unravelled DNA.

Wednesday 16 September, 7.30pm

Thinking, Fast and Slow by Daniel Kahneman

Kahneman explains how we think and make choices using 2 systems: one fast, intuitive and emotional; the other slower, more deliberative and more logical.

He describes how they work, their capabilities, advantages, faults and biases, and how they shape our judgements. Can you trust your intuition and decision-making?

We will decide closer to the time whether to meet in person or via Zoom.

If you have not finished, or even started the book, still get in touch.

LOCKDOWN QUIZ

Saturday 27 June,
6.45pm for 7pm

Andrew and Ann will set the questions for the next Lockdown Quiz.

The format is unchanged: four rounds of questions, 15 minutes per round, followed by half an hour for another round and your preferred supper and then another few rounds to finish.

Questions will be posted on the LALG website and you must email your answers in at the end of each round.

We are keeping it all low tech to give everyone a chance to take part - there are no fancy audio or visual clues, just sets of typed questions.

The usual rules of quizzes apply - we know you wouldn't dream of cheating by looking things up - except you are actively encouraged to phone a friend.

Teams of up to 6 people can communicate by your preferred methods - phone, zoom, skype, twitter, WhatsApp, email, Morse code tapped on your neighbour's wall, semaphore to the people opposite etc.

You can enter on your own or with others you know. However, if you would like us to help you make up a larger team then email us at LALGQuiz@outlook.com and tell us your name and how many of you there are. We will then share your details with others to make up groups of 6 people.

Remember that people who don't have internet access can join in providing someone reads the questions to them.

THE GREENWAY

Letchworth's 13.6-mile Greenway around the outskirts of the town is perfect for walks and cycle rides. It offers lovely views across the surrounding fields.

There are 60 way markers all along the Greenway, allowing you to easily find out where you are and how far you have travelled.

Please help to take care of this wonderful local asset by clearing up after your dog and taking any rubbish home with you.

Please observe all Government advice relating to Covid-19 to protect yourself and everyone else on the Greenway.
